My Angel Princess

Charity Angelia Smith
Lyrics By: Robb Smith

My angel princess, my fallen star,
Though I can't see you I know where you are.
Jesus has suffered the price for our pains.
Our hurt refines us, 'tis never in vain.

Our angel's miracles are not mountains moved,
Walking on water, or healing her wounds.
Our angel's miracle is much greater still:
Our hearts are changing; we love Father's will.

Daughter of God; Creature of light;
Valiant and lovely but just out of sight.
Father has given us a bend in our road.
He knows the only way to lead us back home.

Go now, fair daughter. Leave mortal pain.
Sing His glad tidings 'till we meet again.
We'll wait to bring you up to raise up your own.
Fair sons and daughters to sing at His throne.

You've filled your mission. You've passed your test.
Now your fair body we lay down to rest.
It is for us now to labor in love
'Till all our family can join you above.

Daughter of God; Creature of light;
Valiant and lovely but just out of sight.
Father has given us a bend in our road.
He knows the only way to lead us back home.

Our little family will miss you today,
But that great morning is not far away.
When we will hold you in your perfect form.
Death, pain, and sorrow will then be no more.

Father of lights, Lover of man,
My angel daughter: a gift from Thy Hand.
Help me, dear Father. Give strength from above
To be found worthy of Thy gift of Charity.

Daughter of God; Creature of light;
Valiant and lovely but just out of sight.
Father has given us a bend in our road.
He knows the only way to lead us back home.

Ask My Mom How She Is

My Mom, she tells a lot of lies,
She never did before
But from now until she dies,
She'll tell a whole lot more.
Ask my Mom how she is
And because she can't explain,
She will tell a little lie
because she can't describe the pain.
Ask my Mom how she is,
She'll say "I'm alright."
If that's the truth, then tell me,
why does she cry each night ?
Ask my Mom how she is
She seems to cope so well,
She didn't have a choice you see,
Nor the strength to yell.
Ask my Mom how she is,
"I'm fine, I'm well, I'm coping."
For God's sake Mom, just tell the truth,
Just say your heart is broken
She'll love me all her life
I loved her all of mine.
But if you ask her how she is,
She'll lie and say she's fine.
I am here in Heaven
I cannot hug from here.
If she lies to you don't listen
Hug her and hold her near.
On the day we meet again,
We'll smile and I'll be bold.
I'll say, "You're lucky to get in here, Mom,
With all the lies you told!"

Don't Ask Me

Please, don't ask me
if I'm over it yet
I'll never be over it

Please, don't tell me
she's in a better place
She isn't with me

Please, don't say
at least she isn't suffering
I haven't come to terms with why
she had to suffer at all

Please, don't tell me
you know how I feel
Unless you have lost a child

Please, don't ask me if I feel better Bereavement isn't a condition that clears up

Please, don't tell me at least you had her for some time
What year or day would you choose for your child to die?

Please, don't tell me God never gives us more than we can bear

Please, just tell me you are sorry

Please, just say you remember my child, if you do

Please, just let me
talk about my child

Please, mention my child's name

Please, just let me cry.

God's Play Room

By: Nola Spicer

There's a room full of angels that we cannot see.

God gives them His toys
that they now play with glee.

They all play so nicely
each toy they will share.
Their angelic laughter
and joy fill the air.

Although we can't touch them
or hear what they say,
If we watch and we listen
we'll see them at play.

The warmth of the sun
at the breaking of dawn,
The smell in the air
of a freshly cut lawn.

The rain as it pours
and dances around.
The sparkle of snow
as it covers the ground.

The musical notes
of an early bird's song,
The ripple of water
cascading along.

The opening bud
of a soft, fragrant flower,
Its delicate closing
at dusk's evening hour.

Wind rustling leaves
causing branches to sway,
The twinkle of stars
as night changes from day.

Thunder and lightning,
His most impish tools.
Bring showers and hail
in glistening pools.

But our arms are quite empty
and aching to hold,
Alone they have left us,
alone we grow old.

Although we can't see them,
those ones we hold dear.
When they play with His toys,
we know they are near.

"SOMETIMES MIRACLES ARRIVE SO TINY THAT WE CANNOT FEEL THE WEIGHT OF THEM—AND YET WE ARE STILL CHANGED, AND WE ARE BLESSED NONE THE LESS..."
