Poem for Angel Mommies

The moment that you died,
My heart split in two.
The one side filled with
memories,
The other died with you.
I often lay awake at night
When the world is fast Asleep,
And take a walk down
Memory lane,
With tears upon my cheek.
Remembering you is easy,
I do it every day,
But missing you is a heartache
That never goes away.
I hold you tightly within my heart,
And there you will remain,
Life has gone on without you,
But it will never be the same.
For those who still have their children
Treat them with care,
You will never know the emptiness,
As when you turn and they are not there.

This is for my baby sister Savannah. Today is her birthday. May 6, 2010 she is turning 5. I wish she was hear right now to celebrate her 5th birthday. I would love to have seen her blow out her candles and make a wish, and also open her presents with surprise on her face. I always wonder what her favorite things would be or what she looks like, but no matter if she's not here she'll always be in my heart and she'll aslways be my guardian angel. I love you so much Savannah. From your big sister Cassie.
I love you my guardian angel.*

*From Mom:
My baby girl Savannah I miss you so much. I can't believe you're turning "5." I think of all the things we are missing with you and it breaks my heart everyday not to have you here. My arms still ache to hold you. I remember leaving the hospital on Mother's Day with empty arms and a broken heart. Every day I am reminded of how lucky I am to be your Mom and know that you are always with me. I wish that together we were celebrating your birthday to see you giggle with laughter while opening your presents, and the mess that you would make with your cake. Oh how I miss you.
Happy Heavenly Birthday Savannah!
I love you. Love, Mom*

The death of a baby is like a stone cast into the stillness of a quiet pool; the concentric ripples of despair sweep out in all directions, affecting many, many people.

Birthdays In Memory of

My Son

*It has been one year since I saw your face
I never imagined I would be in this place.
You were so small and delicate, had my toes
and hands
You had Dad's beautiful skin, perfect and tan.
There is not a day that passes I don't think
of you.
And wonder what kind of man you would have grown into.
I love you son, more than words can say,
I wish I could hold you in my arms, that would be the BEST day!
I can't wait for the moment I can see your grin.
We can start our relationship all over again.
Your short life touched ours forever
One day we will be together.
We will always remember
And NEVER EVER forget you!
I love you so much, my son.

Calling Daddy From Heaven

I'm calling you , Daddy, from heaven
Because we are apart,
But the phone won't ring on earth today;
In heaven we call heart to heart.
I just wanted to say, "I love you."
And I think of you each day.
I hear you say you love me
Each time you kneel to pray.
Sometimes I watch you working
At a job you do so well.
I tell all my friends in heaven,
"That's my Daddy, and ain't he swell?"
I'm working on a project
To send you as a gift
And when you finally see it
Your spirits will really lift.
I'm painting lots of colors
All across the sky
And after rain you'll see them
And know we never die.
I'll also paint some flowers
And send them down to you.
They'll look so fresh and pretty
In the early morning dew.
But best of all, I'll take some notes
Of all the things I love
So you can read my journals
When you meet me here above.
Your name will cover pages
Of my moments to be shared;
You'll see how much you've meant to me
And how very much I cared.

Then I'll have story
time with Jesus
And he'll tell me
stories of you.
I'll listen with a smile
Of all the things you
do.
He'll tell me of your kindness

And the smile on your face
The way you make the world
A really nicer place.
Of all the things I ever do,
This will be the best;
I'll ask the Lord to bless you,
My very own request.
And tonight when you are resting
From the day you've spent so well,
I'll whisper in your ears
All I have to tell.
And as I hold you through the night,
This is what I'll say,
"I'm proud to call you Daddy
on this special Father's Day."
Love, Your little angel

"You don't have to be strong for others. You are not obligated to get back to normal so that others are comfortable around you. Grief is a sign that you are healing and growing as a person. Let it happen.
